Malayan Gov't Official Alam Says Too Much Trash on Radio

"There is too much rock-and-roll and trash on American radio," Maylayan broadcast executive Zailno Alam told 35 Omaha University radio-television and journalism students Wednesday.

In Maylaya the government owns, operates and controls all the radio broadcasts, he said, "and the people get what they should."

There is no possibility of a private, commercially-operated broadcast station ever being established in Maylaya, he said. But commercials are aired over the government-controlled transmitters in that southeast Asia peninsula, he said.

Asked why the government controls all the radio broadcasts in his nation, Mr. Alam said: "The newspapers express views and opinions. The radio provides a way for the government to provide a quick reply to those views and opinions."

Radio Faster Means

The newspapers don't necessarily provide only one side to an issue, he said, "but radio provides a more effective and faster means for the government to answer."

Government-owned television will be started in Maylaya next year on two channels, he said. TV broadcasts will be used for "education, information and (last) entertainment," he said. "A blessing in disguise" is what Mr. Alam called the World War II Japanese invasion of Maylaya.

He said the Japanese occupation touched of a spirit of nationalism that eventually lead to that nation's gaining independence from Great Britain.

Throughout the occupation, Mr. Alam said, bands of guerillas—many of them Communists—harrassed the Japanese.

Following World War II, he said, the guerillas expected tribute from the Maylayan government. But when that tribute did not come, he said, the guerillas worked for a communist over-trow of the Maylayan monarchy.

Fought Red Guerillas

"For 12 years we fought the Red guerillas in the jungles," he said, "and finally in 1960 the country was declared all white."

(that is, the Communist guerillas were eliminated from Maylaya).

Mr. Alam said his nation has made a number of major advances in recent years. He cited:

—free elections started in 1957.

—freedom of religion. Islam is the state religion, but all faiths are freely practiced.

—medical facilities are "modern," but there is a shortage of doctors.

—the Peace Corps is doing a "tremendous job on a fifty-fifty basis. We are learning from them and they are learning from us."

—free compulsory education for all children.

Mr. Alam spoke at Omaha U under the auspices of WOW radio and television. He has been touring the United States studying broadcast operations.

College Grads Qualified for AF Commission

To meet a temporary shortage of new officers, the Air Force has opened its Officer Training School (OTS) to all graduates of accredited colleges and universities," said Lt. Colonel Ratti, Omaha University AFROTC, Director of Instruction.

Col. Ratti went on to say that both men and women officers are needed. WAF officers receive the same pay as male officers, including the many side benefits such as travel, medical care, retirement and Base Exchange.

Requirements for entry into OTS are: a college degree (application can be made 210 days prior to graduation), passing the Air Force Officers Qualifying Test and the physical examination. Previous enrollment in AFROTC is not required.

"Male graduates of OTS can go on to pilot training or navigator training as second lieutenants," Col. Ratti said, "and many interesting fields are open to all graduates, whether they are qualified for flying or not."

AA Parking Lot To Add Meters

"New parking meters will be installed in the last two rows of Lot J west of the Applied Arts Building during Thanksgiving vacation," Dean of Administration Kirk Naylor said.

Posts for the 130 new meters were installed this week.

All reserved parking stalls have been removed from the AA lot to Lot P behind the new wing.

The new meters will increase the number of metered spaces on campus to 1,035 and reduce the number of free parking spaces to 413.

"The new meters cost about 50 dollars each," University Controller Harold Keefover said.

Lack of funds halted the purchase of the meters when the lot was paved last summer.

There are still four free lots: Lot G on the south side of the Field House, Lot H south of the AA lot, Lot R north of the AA lot and Lot F south of the women's PE hut.

Seniors Asked To Sign in SC For Exec Day

Seniors interested in participating in the eighth annual Senior-Executive Day should sign up today. They may register 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the table outside the bookstore in the Student Center.

Senior-Executive Day, sponsored by the Omaha Rotary Club, will be Tuesday, Nov. 27. All seniors who are interested in employment in Omaha are invited to be the guests of the management of Omaha firms in the fields of service, manufacturing, transportation and communication.

The students will visit one of the firms of their choice. They will assemble in the Field House at 8 a.m. and will be taken to the business they are to visit. They will be returned to the University about 3 p.m.

Seniors who participate in this program will be excused from classes for the day.

Season's Over Where Are All the Bowl Bids?

By Tom Ash

The regular football season is over, the team has voiced its wish to "compete in a post season bowl game, and the faculty has given it's approval for the same. But no bowl bids have come through so far.

The Indians seem to be out of the running for all of the NAIA sanctioned bowls except the one in which they are most interested. That's the official NAIA Camilia Bowl to be held in Sacramento, California, the first week in December.

Four teams are chosen at large for playoff games November 24 or December 1, with the winners playing in the bowl for the national title.

This seems to be about the only possibility for a bowl game, and it's a long shot. Earlier in the week, Athletic Director, Virgil Yelkin said OU's chances for the game were one-out-of-four. That was when the Indians were rated 16th in the NAIA ratings.

Yesterday, the new poll came out with OU riding in the 13th spot. That makes the chances better, but not much.

NAIA football poll

1. Central Oklahoma State	(8-0)
2. Florida A&M	(7-0)
3. Lenoir Rhyne (N. C.)	(9-0)
4. College of Emporia (Kan.)	(9-0)
5. Texas A&I	(8-0-1)
6. Northern (S. D.) State	(9-0)
7. Linfield (Ore.)	(7-0-1)
8. St. John's (Minn.)	(9-0)
9. Northern Illinois	(8-1)
10. Parsons (Iowa)	(9-0)
11. S.E. Louisiana	(6-1)
12. E. Stroudsburg (Pa.)	(7-0)
13. OMAHA U.	(7-1-1)
14. S.W. Texas State	(8-1)
15. Carthage (Ill.)	(8-0)

The ratings simply mean that there 12 teams ahead of OU in the eyes of the NAIA. And they're the boys who are picking the four teams for the playoffs.

Northern Illinois can be eliminated from the opposition since they have already accepted a bid to play in the Mineral Water Bowl. Some of the other teams are considering other bowls, and reports indicate that at least three other teams above OU have dropped from contention for various reasons. So there's still the chance.

There are also other factors in our favor. When the Indians shunked Washburn, 41-14, in one of their sharpest games, the NAIA Bowl scouts were in the stands. Also on the plus side of the ledger is a Li'l Ole' jack-rabbit by the name of Roger Sayers. The Rocket put Omaha U. on the athletic map with his track exploits this spring and summer. And he's sure to be a major drawing card in the Sacramento area if OU is chosen.

Not Just Waiting

Yelkin says he's not just sitting back and waiting to see if a bid will come. He made several telephone calls to the committee, letting them know OU would be more than happy to participate and giving them all possible information favoring the OU choice.

Also many civic leaders and influential businessmen have been contacting the NAIA as well as sports writers and casters flooding them with glowing reports.

Yelkin said that we want this game, but "we won't be too disappointed if we don't get it." He said that the boys had a great season, and we'll all proud of them. He added that, "If we don't get it this year, we'll go after it again next year."

Coach Al Caniglia echoed his pride in the team, and expressed his thanks to the Faculty Athletic Committee for giving the team permission to accept a bowl bid.

Faculty backs the Team

Last Monday, after the football team dumped defending national champion Pittsburg State, the Athletic Committee voted 8-4 to recommend to President Milo Bail that he accept an NAIA bid.

The approval came after a team meeting in which the squad voted unanimously to accept a post season offer.

The committee's recommendation came in full view of a possible NCAA suspension or reprimand.

We may know all the answers Sunday. The NAIA Bowl Committee will meet then after most of the teams in contention complete their seasons. They are expected to make their choice of the four teams at this meeting.

Two Programs For TV Dept.

Two major productions are getting underway this week in the Omaha University Radio-TV Department.

Paul Borge, head of the department, said that his Television Techniques class has started work on its two final projects. The two, both half hour shows, are "This Is Your Life" and "Stalag 17".

Mr. Borge said the shows will be put on sometime after Christmas with the 26 class members handling all writing, editing, and staging.

Students and faculty members are invited to attend.

About the same time the Future Teachers will be presenting individual projects before the TV cameras in an effort to acquaint them with the medium.

College of Education Dean Frank Gorman said the Future Teachers have profited tremendously from these projects in the past.

Engineers to See Western Electric

The Omaha University Industrial Engineering Society has been invited by the Omaha chapter of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers to tour the Western Electric plant next week.

The group, just formed this semester, is in the midst of their membership drive. President Randall Andersen said "interested engineer students are welcome to stop in at the next meeting," December 7, Rm. 301 at the Student Center.

Other newly elected officers are: Bob Mullen, vice-pres; George Arnold, sec; and Gary Trimble, treas.

World Affairs Has Gregory Speaking Last

The 17th Annual Institute of World Affairs will climax with Gene A. Gregory speaking on "Vietnam—Last Ditch or Springboard?" next Wednesday night.

Mr. Gregory is now serving as the Editor-in-Chief of the Times of Vietnam, the only English-language daily published in the South Vietnam capital of Saigon.

Undertaking a Ford Foundation study of the social structure and administrative authority of a typical Foundation village, Mr. Gregory lived with the native people for eighteen months observing their customs.

He also organized the Vietnam Development Company, the largest concern specializing in electrical and electronic equipment in Vietnam, founded the Rotary Club and Junior Chamber of Commerce in Saigon, and is a charter member of the Saigon Chapter of the Lions International.

Music Program For Univ. Nights

Everything from a twist to modern jazz will highlight a program to be presented by the music fraternity, Phi Mu Alpha, for University Nights tonight at 8 in the auditorium of the Administration Building.

There also will be numbers by the men's glee club, a barber-shop quartet, and a soloist, Melvin Morson.

Mr. Kermit Peters, fraternity faculty advisor, will give a narrative on the background of the music.

Albert "Red" Travis, an OU student, will conduct the orchestra.

Dunbier Flies Coop; Forfeits $35 Bond Fee

Roger Dunbier, former geography instructor at Omaha University, failed to appear at South Side Municipal Court yesterday and forfeited a $35.00 bond.

Municipal Court Judge Simon A. Simon did not issue a bench warrant for his arrest.

According to Dunbier's father, Augustus, Roger is in Chicago now.

Dunbier was charged with malicious destruction of property and drunkenness for destroying a political sign belonging to Congressman Glenn Cunningham.

Language Profs Meet Nov. 17

The Fifth Annual Conference for Foreign Language Teachers will be held November 17, in the Eppley Conference Center.

The program will begin at 9:00 with registration for teachers, foreign language majors, local school administrators and adults with an interest in foreign languages.

Dr. Benjamin Fine, a former education editor for the New York Times, will be a guest speaker via Tele-lecture. Other speakers include Dr. Craig K. Fullerton, Assistant Superintendent of Instruction in Omaha schools and Omaha University language instructors, Dr. Christopher Espinosa and Professor Forrest R. Hazard.

The remainder of the program will be devoted to an evaluation of the use of programmed learning and teaching machines in the language field by teachers and educational experts.

Indians Dump Champs To Take CIC Crown

By Mike Moran

With the OU Stadium rocking to the cheers of over 7,000 fans who came to see a bitter, hard fought contest, Omaha University's Indians swept out of the dressing room and blasted Pittsburg State's national champs right off the field for the CIC championship, 35-0.

The victory was sweet revenge for Al Caniglia's men, who tasted their first conference defeat in the title game at Pittsburg last year to the tune of 34-18.

So tenacious was the Indian's defense that Pittsburg failed to dent the other side of the 50 yard line except on a fumble recovery.

OU's beefy line held the Gorillas' touted ground game to only 76 yards while tearing every Pittsburg sweep to shreds.

The romp gave the Indians a final record of 7-1-1, best since the 8-1 record of 1956 and brought the CIC banner to the campus for the first time since the Omahans joined in 1959.

Three Long Years

For Al Caniglia, Don Watchhorn and Ken Fischer it was the culmination of three years of hard work and sacrifice.

The first half was not spectacular by any means, just rock 'em, sock 'em, grind-it-out type football.

Dean Taylor's interception gave the Indians the ball on their own 36 and OU promptly marched 64 yards to score. Key bursts by Louie Miloni and Lee Milner moved the ball to Pitt territory where Wayne Backes took over finally vaulting over the Gorilla line from the three. The Indians passed only once in the drive.

The second score came as a result of some clutch plays by Carl Meyers and Jim Kettle. With third and 15 on the OU 48, Meyers dropped back and threw a strike to Kettle who made a diving catch on the Pittsburg 30.

A slant by Miloni moved the ball to the 15 and then Gerry Allen swept the Gorilla end behind a wall of blockers for the second OU score.

Meyers kicked his second extra point and the Indians were off to the races at 14-0.

This in itself was not significant because OU led by 12-7 nearing halftime against the Kansans last year only to see a last ditch pass put them behind by 14-12.

The main thing, however, was the aggressive OU defense which allowed only 55 yards on the ground in the first half.

The Gorillas went to the showers at intermission a beaten team that had been thoroughly outplayed.

And They Didn't Quit

OU picked up right where they left off the second half as they came out and marched 64 yards to score the first time they had the ball.

Miloni, Backes and Milner again toted the load as the Indians swept to the Pitt three on only eight plays. Louie capped the drive by scooting into the end zone untouched to register the third Indian TD.

Meyers again was on target with the boot and Omaha had itself a 21-0 bulge.

Omaha's offensive line was sweeping the Gorilla defenders aside like jackstraws and the defense had halted every thrust that Pittsburg could muster.

So the Indians relaxed and proceeded to score with the weapon that had made them a dangerous foe for the last two years.

That weapon was in the form of AAU sprint king Roger Sayers. Sayers had a score to settle with the Gorillas. Last year they had held him in check, and more often than not Roger had found himself at the bottom of a pile that had spread his 160 pounds pretty thin on the Kansas soil.

But the Gorillas elected to punt to Sayers on fourth and 5 from the Pitt 27. It was a mistake they quickly regretted. Taking the ball on the run at the OU 29, Roger headed for the eastern sideline and shot by the groping Gorilla defenders 71 yards to a score.

Meyers drilled the kick squarely through the doomed south goal posts and the board clicked to 28-0.

Number 7 for Rocket

Five minutes later, with soph Joe Benson at the controls, Sayers took a pitchout and rambled through the weary Pittsburg defense for 39 yards and his seventh touchdown in three games. One man had a shot at the Rocket at the 10, but a quick fake left the defender grasping air and Sayers was gone.

Those south goal posts had only minutes to live as Meyers booted his fifth straight point after touchdown to raise the rout to 35-0.

The beaten Gorillas tried a number of last ditch passes to avert a shutout, but as the clock reached to straight up they were run over by happy OU rooters rushing to their heroes.

Miloni, Blazeovich and the coaches got a ride while everybody else was pounded, pummeled and patted by alums, students and faculty. It was a full ten minutes before anyone could navigate their way to the dressing room.

Down they came

Meanwhile those south goal posts, firmly imbedded and seemingly secure, had fallen and joyous fans were taking the metal poles to new homes.

The crowd had gathered enthusiasm especially after President Milo Bail had announced a holiday shortly before the end of the game. His speech was drowned in the wave which swept quickly past him and over the field.

The sun was going down before many even started to leave the stadium. One rooter just sat on the fifty yard line and reminisced, maybe of 1955 and now what was to come.

Undeclared Zeke Moe Joes Take Flag Crown; Lambda Chi's Win Archery, Lead in Bowling

As predicted last week Zeke Moe Joes captured the Intramural Flag Football crown. Throughout Intramural competition the Zeke's compiled a record of ten wins and no defeats.

Pi Kaps placed second in overall standings, holding a record of seven and two. TKE and "O" Club were close behind with records of 7-3 and 6-3 respectively.

Final Intramural Flag Football Standings

	W.	L.
1. Zeke Moe Joes	10	0
2. Pi Kaps	8	2
3. TKE	7	3
4. "O" Club	6	3
5. Lambda Chi	5	4
6. Sig Eps	5	4
7. Bootstrappers	3	5
8. I.S.A.	2	5
9. Untouchables	2	7
10. Thunderbolts	2	8
11. Theta Chi	0	10

The Interfraternity play-off game between Lambda Chi and Pi Paps was played Wed. Nov. 14 after publication of this story. With each team holding 3-1 records there was a forced play-off. TKE and Sig Eps finished the season in a tie for second place with 2-2 records.

Interfraternity Standings

	W.	L.
1. Lambda Chi	3	1
2. Pi Kaps	3	1
3. TKE	2	2
4. Sig Eps	2	2
5. Theta Chi	0	4

Lambda Chi overwhelmed all opposition in Intramural Archery competition by posting a four meet total of 3664 points. Pi Kaps placed second with 2267. Stanley R. Winslow captured the individual trophy for the top three aggregate totals during the four meets with a 1976 total.

Lambda Chi stands on top of the heap in the Intramural bowling race by holding a 18-6 record and topping 12,283 total pins. Sig Ep is a strong second at 17-7 and a 12,340 tally. Sig Eps also hold the highest team series with 2236. Gary Groberg, rolling for The Crew holds the highest individual series at 646. These standings are subject to change due to the fact that more bowling competition occurred after publication.

COMMITTEES: AN AGONIZING RE-APPRAISAL

To those of you who stay out of your student government because you believe the committee system is just an excuse for inaction, let me cite an example to prove that a committee, properly led and directed, can be a great force for good.

Last week the Student Council met at the Duluth College of Veterinary Medicine and Belles Lettres to discuss purchasing a new doormat for the students union. It was, I assure you, a desperate problem because Sherwin K. Sigafos, janitor of the students union, threatened flatly to quit unless a new doormat was installed immediately. "I'm sick and tired of mopping that dirty old floor," said Mr. Sigafos, sobbing convulsively. (Mr. Sigafos, once a jolly outgoing sort, has been crying almost steadily since the recent death of his pet wart hog who had been his constant companion for 22 years. Actually, Mr. Sigafos is much better off without the wart hog, who tusked him viciously at least once a day, but a companionship of 22 years is, I suppose, not lightly relinquished. The college tried to give Mr. Sigafos a new wart hog—a frisky little fellow with floppy ears and a waggly tail—but Mr. Sigafos only turned his back and cried the harder.)

He only turned his back and cried the harder

But I digress. The Student Council met, discussed the doormat for eight or ten hours, and then referred it to a committee. There were some who scoffed then and said nothing would ever be heard of the doormat again, but they reckoned without Invictus Millstone.

Invictus Millstone, chairman of the doormat committee, was a man of action—lithe and lean and keen and, naturally, a smoker of Marlboro Cigarettes. Why do I say "naturally"? Because, dear friends, active men and women don't have time to brood and bumble about their cigarettes. They need to be certain. They must have perfect confidence that each time they light up they will get the same gratifying flavor, the same Selectate filter, the same soft soft-pack, the same flip top flip-top box. In brief, dear friends, they need to be sure it's Marlboro—for if ever a smoke was true and trusty, it's Marlboro. Get some soon. Get matches too, because true and trusty though Marlboros are, your pleasure will be somewhat limited unless you light them.

Well sir, Invictus Millstone chaired his doormat committee with such vigor and dispatch that when the Student Council met only one week later, he was able to rise and deliver the following recommendations:

1. That the college build new schools of botany, hydraulic engineering, tropical medicine, Indo-Germanic languages, and millinery.
2. That the college drop football, put a roof on the stadium, and turn it into a low-cost housing project for married students.
3. That the college raise faculty salaries by $5000 per year across the board.
4. That the college secede from the United States.
5. That the question of a doormat for the students union be referred to a subcommittee.

So let us hear no more defeatist talk about the committee system. It can be made to work!

© 1962 Max Shulman

You don't need a committee to tell you how good Marlboros are. You just need yourself, a Marlboro, and a set of taste buds. Buy some Marlboros soon at your favorite tobacco counter.

He's grown accustomed to his fate

Henry's really a most admirable character. He turns up in only the best places, his taste in dress is impeccable, he always says and does exactly the right thing at the right time. He's the very image of the cultured and polished gentleman. Yet with it all, Henry is human. He does have a flaw—and upon that flaw his fate is hinged. Automobiles are Henry's undoing. He doesn't understand them, and he's quite sure they don't understand him. His car perpetually wheezes and moans—when it runs at all—and Henry perpetually drags it limping and protesting into the repair shop. For all his worldliness, it never occurs to him that a new car would make him master of his fate. Take heed from Henry's soul-shattering flaw. It's fantastically easy with a car loan from the U.S. National Bank. Simply choose a car that suits your taste—then see U.S. In a very short time you'll have acquired the ultimate in dependable transportation, and escaped Henry's dolorous prospects as well. You'll never have to grow accustomed to his fate—no matter how your day begins. Never baffled by mechanics—always free from strain and fret. Let Henry suffer on his own; so handsome, suave—and yet—accustomed to a life of rattles, gasps, bangs—accustomed to his fate.
